Maine's Local Food Network

Overview of the map

Maine's Local Food Network map was produced as part of the GROWashington-Aroostook project through a partnership between the Washington County Council of Governments and the University of Maine at Machias GIS Service Center in December 2013. Support was provided by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's Sustainable Communities Program.

Included in the map are food hubs, such as buying clubs, farmers' markets and farm stands, as well as other retail outlets for local food, farms, specialty food producers, distributors, and processors. Most places include contact information in the pop-up windows. You can add your business or organization to the database through our survey. If you see your business or organization on this map and the information is incomplete, please let us know through our survey, Maine's Local Food Network .

More information on this regional planning project is available at <http://www.gro-wa.org>.

You can add your business or organization to the database through our survey: Maine's Local Food Network.

Recommendations for improvements to the map can be sent to Judy East, Executive Director, Washington County Council of Governments at jeast@wccog.net, (207) 454-0465.

Limitations of the map

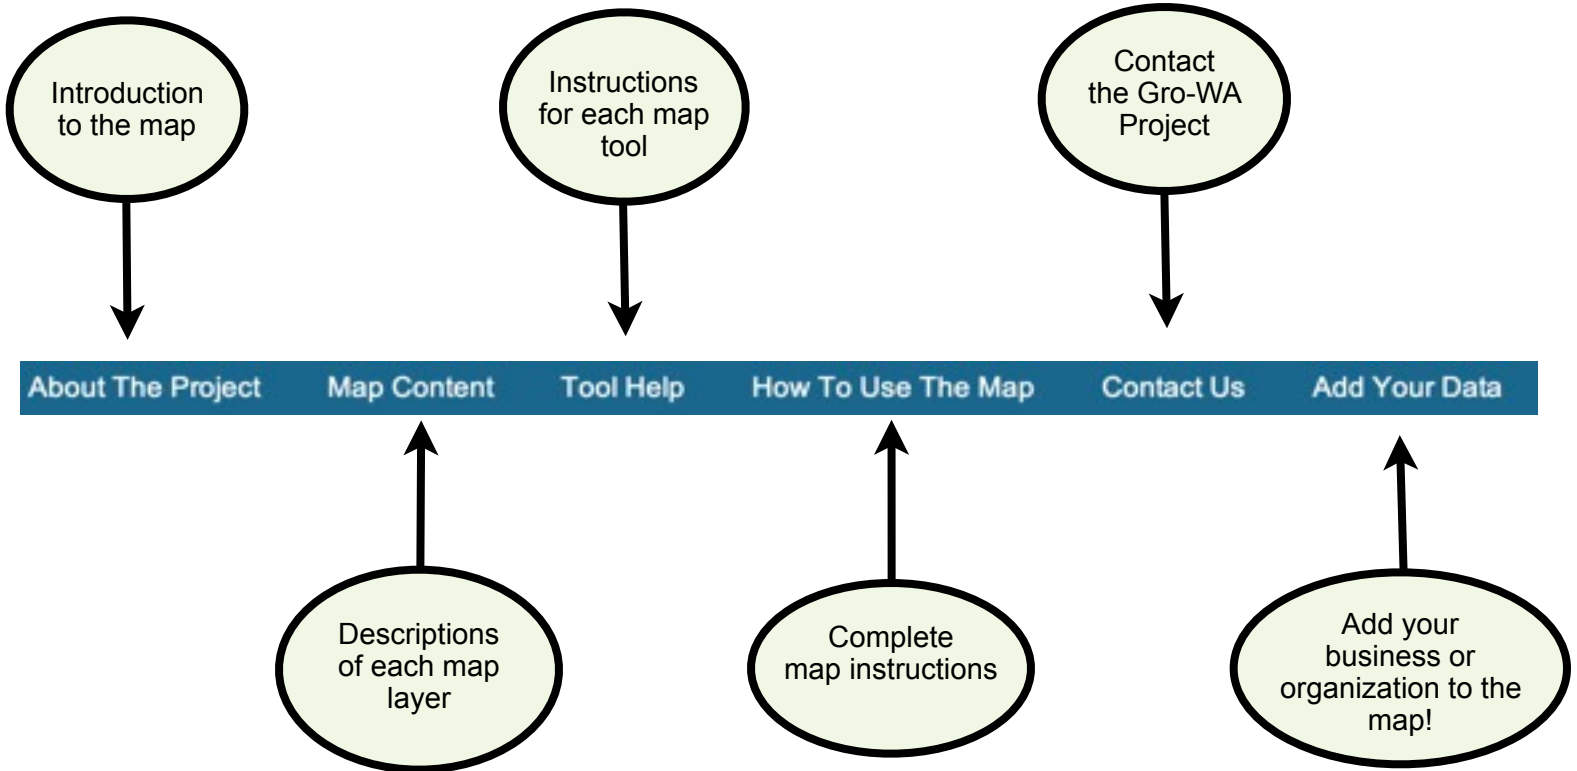

The map is a work in progress. As the database is still under development, there is only a representative sample of local food network locations. If you see your business or organization on this map and the information is incomplete, please let us know through the survey link above.
